Parents Speak

TOPIC : "Let's have a conversation"

"How can schools and parents collaborate to promote mental health and self-care among our students ?"

Parents as Partners

At Bal Bharati Public School, we recognize that parents can add a lot of value to the schooling of their children. They provide the students with a proper learning environment while at home as well as bring valuable suggestions to the table that help us understand and improve to the benefit of the child!

Let's read what our parents say.....

In the modern education landscape, nurturing students' mental well-being is as crucial as academic success. Schools and parents can join forces to promote mental health and self-care among students. Regular communication between parents and teachers can identify early signs of stress or anxiety. Schools can integrate mindfulness practices into the curriculum, while parents can reinforce these techniques at home. Workshops for parents on recognizing mental health challenges can foster a supportive environment. By establishing open dialogues, schools and parents can collectively create strategies to manage academic pressures, encourage healthy routines, and emphasize the importance of self-care. This collaborative approach ensures that students receive consistent guidance and support, paving the way for a brighter, more balanced future.

मानसिक स्वास्थ्य और शारीरिक देखभाल एक दूसरे को प्रत्यक्ष रूप से प्रभावित करते हैं इसके लिए माता पिता सबसे पहले अपने बच्चों को अपने अनुसार सांचे में ढालने की कोशिश न करें या यूँ कहें कि अपने अनुसार बच्चे का कारियर या लक्ष्य निर्धारित न करें ,अनावश्यक शैक्षणिक दबाव डालना और किसी दूसरे बच्चों से तुलना करना ,चिंता ,तनाव,और भय मानसिक तनाव को प्रत्यक्ष रूप से प्रभावित करता है |इसके लिए माता-पिता को चाहिए कि अपने बच्चे की प्रतिभा को पहचाने और उसी को लक्ष्य बनाकर लगातार उसी दिशा में कार्य करने के लिए सहयोग और प्रोत्साहित करें |

कोई भी कार्य चाहे वह शैक्षणिक हो या अशैक्षणिक या कोई भी निर्धारित लक्ष्य उसको प्राप्त करने के लिए शारीरिक और मानसिक स्वास्थ्य का अनुकूल होना अतिआवश्यक है,इसके लिए बच्चों के सबसे पहले संतुलित आहार ,पर्याप्त नींद, नियमित व्यायाम,खेल,कभी - कभी अन्यत्र बाहर घूमने जाना,अपनी रुचि या शौक के अनुसार संगीत ,खेल,नृत्य ,चित्रकला,या किसी भी रचनात्मक कार्य मे समय व्यतीत करते हुए हर हाल में खुश रखने का प्रयास करना चाहिए |

Communication is the key!

School can organise regularly meeting or workshop where parents and teachers can interact/discuss strategies for promoting mental well being. School can organise events focused on mindfulness and relaxation techniques. Parents can participate through open channels of communication between parents and school to ensure that everyone is on same page. By working together school and parents can create a supportive environment that nurtures our mental well being and self care skill.

School and Parents can collaborate effectively to foster mental health and self care among students. Regular communication between educators and parents about mental health initiatives and resources can ensure a consistent approach. Joint workshops and programme that involve both parties can provide students with valuable skills and knowledge. Creating student support teams comprising teacher, student and counsellors can identify and address mental health needs, while peer supports groups for parents can facilitate shared experiences and solutions. School should offer resources and information on mental health, while parents can reinforce healthy routine at home. By fostering an open environment and addressing stigma, school and parents can work together to create a holistic approach that nurtures students emotional well being, resilience and self care skills.

As a parent, collaborating with teachers is crucial for our child's holistic development. Regular communication helps me understand my child's progress, strengths, and areas needing attention. Sharing insights about my child's life at home helps create a complete picture. I appreciate individualized learning plans that cater to their needs and learning style. Consistent discipline strategies and shared values ensure a coherent approach. Celebrating achievements, addressing challenges jointly, and participating in school events strengthens our child's self-esteem and sense of community. I value teachers' role in nurturing social skills and emotional intelligence. Wellness programs and resources from both sides contribute to their overall growth. A feedback loop keeps me informed and allows adjustments. Collaborative modelling between teachers and parents teaches valuable life skills. Together, we're shaping a well-rounded individual prepared for success in every aspect of life. By working hand in hand, teachers and parents can provide a holistic foundation for the child's growth, fostering a well-rounded individual who is prepared for success in all aspects of life.

Teachers make their students scholastically strong and they always encourage their students to do better in their life. The sanctified term "गुरु" can very well be understood if we split the accord of its two letters and narrate as "गुरु" :- 'ग' कारो गुणातीताय, 'रु' कारो रूपवर्जिता: . which emphatically suggests of someone who is beyond mundane attributes and has Relinquished the form and thus a pure spirit. Nurturing or parenting has to formulate thoughts in youngsters' and help to make or change the decisions life. Teachers and parents together collaboratively can aid in appropriate unfolding a child's innate talent and skills. Being mentally healthy during childhood means reaching developmental and emotional milestones and learning healthy social skills and how to cope when there are problems. Mentally healthy children have a positive quality of life and can function well at home, in school, and in their communities.

Similarly, we can model self-care by acknowledging own needs as a parent. Some people believe that self-care is a selfish act. In reality, the opposite is true. Both ourselves and the people in our life benefit greatly when we take time to look after physical, emotional well-being, and mental fitness. Taking time out of each day to nourish every part of ourselves helps us live healthier, happier, and more fulfilling lives.

In the teacher-parent collaboration, it is important to be mindful that both have unique areas of knowledge and skill. Parents are well-versed with their child's developmental history, interests and lifestyle. Teachers have the knowledge of teaching, assessment strategies and the child's school performance. To assist the child's academic success, parents and teachers should collaborate to share the knowledge. It entails connecting the child's home and school learning processes. This aids parents in addressing the child's learning difficulties and increasing their own learning. A child will learn more efficiently in school if they feel supported at home. Education is a crucial stage in a child's growth and development. Together, parents and teachers should support the child's physical, emotional, and intellectual wellbeing and work to create the best learning environment possible.

If a child is to retain alive his innate sense of inquisitiveness, he needs the companionship of at least one or more adults who can share it, reviving with him the joy, excitement, and mystery of the world we live in. The teacher and parents together united for such an immaculate cause shall ensure wonders and generate numerous prodigies for the country.
